

A virtual space to meet your peers and enhance the scientific and academic collaboration in Latin America

Colaboratorio

In our portal you can use the tools and services that strengthen the collaborative work and that RedCLARA offers to all its members.

Who can use Colaboratorio?

The portal is available for all the users and research communities that are part of the NRENs connected to RedCLARA and have registered at colaboratorio.redclara.net. All the services available in Colaboratorio can be integrated to the websites of the Latin American and European networks.

How to use Colaboratorio?

- 1 Start your session from the button Login / Register in the home page of the RedCLARA website.
- 2 In the main menu, try the collaborative tools and create and participate in web conferences (VC Espresso), book multipoint rooms for high quality conferences (SIVIC), and transfer large files (eNVIO).
- 3 In the central panel, you can view news, events and science publications:
 - In Academic Breaking News you will find articles of recognized and specialized media that will keep you informed about academic and scientific issues.
 - With Last Funds Calling you can read and receive alerts of financing funds for conducting research and academic projects –filtered by the areas of interest defined in your profile–, news, and also meet partners and collaborators.
 - Community will let you identify groups with common areas of work or to create a new group on a scientific field of interest.

Get more information about Colaboratorio from the portal video:
www.elcira.eu/tutorials.html